Dear Friend:

- Q. Do you believe you have a right to know how much money the Central Intelligence Agency spends each year?
- Q. Should your bank have to notify you before it shows a government agent copies of the checks you write?
- Q. Should a woman have a right to obtain an abortion?
- Q. Should federal funds be denied to police departments that have racially discriminatory hiring policies?
- Q. Should a child have a right to an impartial hearing before being expelled from school?

If you answer yes to four out of these five questions, we hope you will put your beliefs into practice by becoming an Associate of the American Civil Liberties Union Foundation.

Your tax-deductible contribution--and the contributions of thousands of your fellow Americans--will help pay for the 6,000 court cases the ACLU Foundation takes on each year. By adding your voice to ours, you also strengthen the Foundation's work in research and education.

Many of the freedoms all of us take for granted today were won in hard-fought battles waged by the American Civil Liberties Union Foundation.

Our court cases have secured the right of one person to one vote; struck down censorship laws; applied the principle of equal protection of the laws to women; established the rights of children to due process of law before they can be imprisoned; held that non-dangerous persons cannot be incarcerated in mental hospitals; enabled persons of different races to marry; struck down laws allowing for the revocation of citizenship; established the right to a hearing before termination of public benefits; struck down loyalty oaths required by teachers and other public employees - and much, much more.

Edward J. Ennis, President • Aryeh Neier, Executive Vice President • Samuel Hendel, Rolland O'Hare, Harriet Pilpel, Barbara Preiskel, Marvin Schacter, Vice Presidents • Norman Dorsen, Osmond K. Fraenkel, Ruth Bader Ginsburg, General Counsel

Each day the ACLU Foundation confronts questions crucial to the rights of all Americans. Each day the Foundation answers the questions in accordance with its beliefs. If you believe in the Bill of Rights--in freedom of inquiry and expression, due process of law, equal protection of the laws, and privacy, practice what you believe - participate in the Foundation's work today.

Sincerely,

P.S. ACLU Foundation believes the answer should be yes to all five questions at the beginning of this letter. But even if you agree with us on only four out of five we think you'll be comfortable with the Foundation. We believe in the right to dissent, even in our own ranks.

Dear Mr. Director:

Thank you for your response to our request for information on your inspector general and general counsel organizations and the steps your agency has taken to implement Executive Order 11905. The information supplied has been most helpful.

I-23.4

The Board has determined some of the procedures by which it will fulfill its responsibilities. These procedures have been conveyed in a letter to those individuals in your organizations responsible for reporting to the Board. For your information, a copy of this letter and a list of addressees in your agency are attached.

We look forward to continued cooperation with you.

Very truly yours,

Robert D. Murphy
